Washington’s Vision and Guiding Principles for Crisis Response and Suicide Prevention*

Vision: 988, Washington's Crisis Response: building understanding, hope, and a path forward for those in need, where and when they need it.

People in crisis experience:

- Timely access to high-quality, coordinated care without barriers
- A welcoming response that is healing, trauma-informed, provides hope, and ensures people are safe
- Person and family centered care
- Care that is responsive to age, culture, gender, sexual orientation, people with disabilities, geographic location, language, and other needs

The Crisis System is intentionally:

- Grounded in equity and anti-racism
- Centered in and informed by lived experience
- Coordinated and collaborative across system and community partners
- Empowered by technology that is accessible by all
- Financed sustainably and equitably
- Operated in a manner that honors tribal government-to-government processes
Developing crisis system process map to bring together understanding of current system interfaces, gaps, and changes needed.

- Will provide a foundational tool to inform crisis system redesign work needed.
- Held work sessions in March and April with 988 call centers, 911, and Regional Crisis Lines.
- Upcoming work will focus on processes specific to children and tribal populations.

Addressing full continuum of crisis care:

- A place to call: 988-to-911; 911-to-988; Regional Call Lines to 988
- Someone to come: Mobile crisis rapid response teams
- A place to go: Crisis stabilization services
- Pre- and post crisis care: immediately upstream and downstream of crisis events

- Objective 2: Someone to come – Mobile crisis rapid response teams
- Objective 3: A place to go – Broad range of crisis stabilization services

- Objective 5: Crisis system infrastructure and oversight

The CRIS Committee and all subcommittee are providing input into ways to embed equity into the High-Level Workplan.

- Discuss input at the June 7th Lived Experience Subcommittee meeting.
