

Partnerships for Success (PFS)

Overview

The Partnerships for Success (PFS) 2018 grant project aims to strengthen Community Prevention and Wellness Initiative (CPWI) coalitions in Washington State to expand and enhance their local Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF) efforts. The objectives of the PFS 2018 grant include:

- Reducing substance misuse and abuse rates among youth by continuing to build capacity in the state's prevention system and local communities through the CPWI model.
- Increasing the capacity of CPWI coalitions through training and technical assistance and enhancing the data infrastructure and reporting system to support ongoing evaluation studies.
- Implementing a prevention public education campaign to spread prevention messaging around the state.

The grant funding is applied for annually, and the final year of funding will end September 29, 2023.

Washington has identified underage drinking, marijuana, vaping, and prescription drug use as prevention priorities based on data from the State Epidemiological Outcome Workgroup and Washington State Prevention Enhancement Policy Consortium's Substance Use Prevention and Mental Health Promotion Five-year Strategy.

DBHR will build capacity at the prevention provider level through trainings, including the Community Anti-drug Coalition of American (CADCA) "Boot Camp" training and the annual in-person Coalition Leadership Institute for coalition coordinators. These trainings provide coalition coordinators and leaders strategic planning and implementation training, including cultural competency and addressing health disparities. DBHR will also use PFS funds to provide continued support to existing statewide prevention media campaigns focused on underage drinking and other youth substance use in high-risk communities throughout the state.

Eligibility requirements

The PFS 2018 grant serves youth, families, and community members throughout Washington State. The State Epidemiological Outcomes Workgroup (SEOW) conducted data analysis to develop community risk profiles to identify high-need communities in each county to receive funding. The new sites were selected through a Request for Proposal process, based on a demonstrated need for substance abuse prevention services combined with the readiness to implement strategies to address this need. Fifty-eight high-need communities were eligible to apply, and DBHR funded 18 new CPWI communities with a two-year contract through September 29, 2020.

Each CPWI site supported with the PFS project has an approved strategic plan, action plan, and budget to implement culturally competent services according to community need, readiness, and capacity. All plans and implementation costs vary depending on location and numbers served per program.
